

Auditoria® + Workday Advanced Accruals for Suppliers

Automate Your Monthly Close

REDUCE RISK • IMPROVE ACCURACY • CLOSE FASTER

Auditoria SmartGL Advanced Accruals for Suppliers integrates with Workday Financial Management data to deliver autonomous supplier outreach to automate the month-end supplier expense accruals process and eliminate the long hours needed to close the books. Using machine learning and natural language processing, Auditoria's advanced tech creates journal entries, estimates supplier accrual expenses, matches with third-party data sources, and reconciles with the general ledger. Advanced Accruals delivers an industry-first capability to automate the typically arduous and error-prone period-end supplier process.

AUDITORIA® ADVANCED ACCRUALS FOR SUPPLIERS SMARTFLOW SKILL | R2R

AUTONOMOUS OUTREACH AND ACCRUAL ESTIMATION

Using SmartBot technology, Auditoria automates monthly outreach to suppliers and estimates accruals using supplier input plus purchase order and purchase requisition data. The SmartBots automatically request non-billed expenses from internal and external stakeholders.

CENTRALIZED VIEW OF ACCRUALS DATA

The SmartBots integrate with systems of record and automatically generate journal entries while supporting segregation of duties. SmartBots gather all the accruals in a centralized view that capture requests and outreach. Team members download accruals data with one click to share with auditors or other stakeholders.

VISIBILITY INTO MONTH END

The aggregated data gives visibility into the accrual data, allowing management to anticipate expenses with less unplanned spend to account for. The platform provides full visibility into the sources for all manual accruals.

AUTONOMOUS FOLLOW-UP

SmartBots automatically follow-up with unresponsive vendors to allow accounting teams to concentrate on more value-add analysis and activities.

Ventures
Partner

Auditoria is a Workday Ventures Partner, with access to Workday's extensive experience, market know-how, and global reach in the enterprise space. Together, we are helping finance teams work more effectively as companies move toward digital transformation and automation, allowing the office of the CFO to focus on strategy and business initiatives rather than on error-prone manual tasks.

STEP 1 | AP Close

SmartBots gather month-end supplier data from system(s) of record including open purchase orders, purchase requisitions, and invoice data.

STEP 2 | Outreach and Estimation

SmartBots email suppliers and internal stakeholders asking for accrual estimates. SmartBots monitor shared mailboxes, follow up with stakeholders, and generate accrual estimates using email responses and AP data.

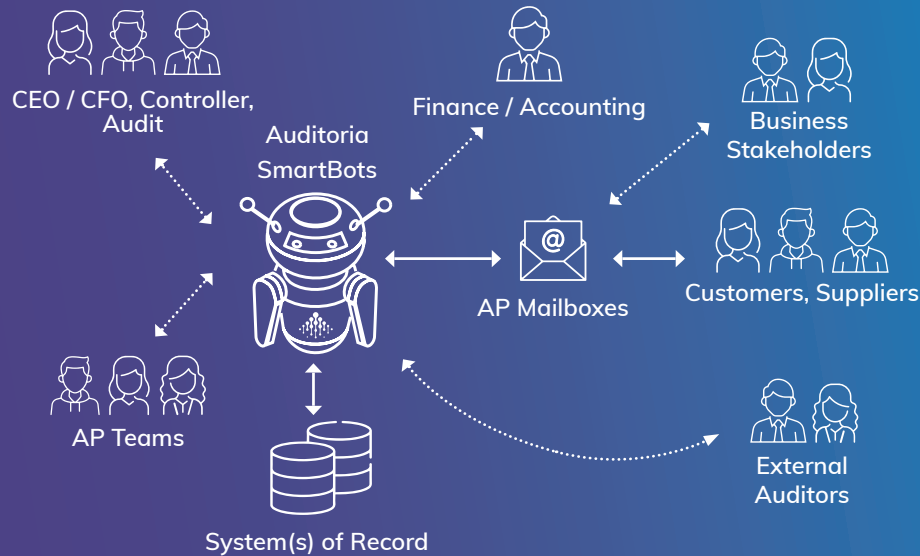

STEP 3 | Review and Write to ERP

SmartBots create accrual journals and store all supporting data in one easy to navigate page. GL team reviews and approve accrual journals to be written to the ERP.

STEP 4 | Analysis and Reporting

All supporting data is stored, downloadable and easily shared with auditors. SmartBot store accrual activity over time and analyze trends for greater accuracy and insights.

Auditoria's SmartBots provide a system of engagement, utilizing the dedicated inboxes and systems of record to automate accounting functions and improve cash performance.

WHAT'S SO "SMART" ABOUT AUDITORIA?

Auditoria® SmartFlow Skills are discrete, pre-packaged, purpose-built accounting applications that perform a wide range of critical finance back-office functions, automatically. Auditoria® SmartBots act as "junior accountants" that execute the SmartFlow Skills, engaging with systems of record, shared inboxes, and key stakeholders. SmartBots capture actions and hand-off to humans using workflows to escalate when intervention is needed. Purpose-built for finance, SmartBots integrate with systems of record such as ERP applications, procurement systems, and revenue operations platforms and act as a system of engagement to streamline journal entry creation, track and manage accrual capture, and reconcile bank statement matching, using the data generated to provide key insights into cash performance.
